Celebrating 25 years in Numismatics

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC SOCIETY

Freeman Craig

Twenty five (yes, 25!) years in numismatics; a lo-o-ong time to be actively involved in any one pursuit. When "company men" get their "25 year watch" they feel like veterans ready for promotion to top management or perhaps retirement. Marriages that survive to their silver anniversary are considered to be special alliances. Cars emanating from that era are now often considered antiques.

Indeed the year of 1957 did occur about 9000 moons ago. Dwight Eisenhower was president, inflation and bank interest rates were in the 3% range, the USA budget regularly showed a surplus, few people actually worried about "protecting" their wealth and coin collecting was a relatively obscure and unsophisticated hobby.

Freeman Craig Senior introduced my sister and me to his "passion" by giving both of us some blue Whitman folders and a copy of Wayte Raymond's standard reference on US coinage as Easter presents in April of 1957. Starting that week (and continuing for more than 2 years afterward), the three of us would each devote 5 - 20 hours per week to looking through bags of pennies, nickels and dimes obtained from the various banks in Burlington, Vermont. I can easily recall the dozen or so 1955 double-die cents we found at face value. We were so intensely interested in our new hobby that all three of us (along with my mother) were anxious to travel to Boston over the Fourth of July weekend to experience the thrill of meeting "big time" coin dealers. We all shared the "coin collecting bug".

Our collective passion continued unabated until we moved from Vermont to Alaska in the summer of 1959. After my sister Georgia's eleventh birthday she discovered some other things were more interesting to her than coins. However, My Dad and I reacted by intensifying our involvement. We continued to search through bank bags but we soon realized that expansion of our collections was more viable by obtaining the scarce pieces from various coin dealers. During that period Dad became president of the Fairbanks Coin Club; we sometimes traveled the 10 or so miles to the meeting hall through high snow and freezing wind. I don't recall ever missing a single weekly meeting!

It was at that coin club that I first started trading my duplicate coins. As an industrious nine year old I could see the advantage and fun of buying a coin for 7¢ and then reselling it for 9¢. The primary reward was that the profits allowed me to further expand my own collection. The regulars at those meetings regarded me both as a serious young collector and a "vestpocket dealer".

It is probably worth noting that my father intuitively sensed that "giving" me money and coins would only tend to hinder me later in life when no omnipresent "Santa Claus" would be around. Therefore he instituted a policy of loaning me money and generously allowing me to earn money in various ways which I could then invest in my personal collection as I wished. That sense of personal financial responsibility is probably the greatest gift he could have given me.

Beginning in the early 1960's our family relocated in San Antonio, Texas (where both my parents remain happily settled) and immediately became involved in the local numismatic circles there. Nearly all of our acquisitions were purchased from dealers since the bank bags were already thoroughly picked over.

In 1963 our entire family traveled to Denver for the ANA convention; that was a landmark event for me. Thousands of collectors, seemingly millions of coins and a lot of rare pieces. Thrilling, mind boggling, enticing and challenging. I remember dreaming that someday I would have a table at that quintessential showplace.

A few months later an enlisted military man who had sold some really interesting foreign coins to my dad and me decided to retire and open a professional coin store featuring foreign coins. He approached my father about working with him since my dad had himself just recently retired from the Air Force. In February of 1964 the plush offices of "Almanzar's Coins of the World" opened its doors. In April of that year I was hired to do the mundane projects about the office. At 50¢ per hour, I was thrilled to earn $4-5 on a Saturday doing what was not even work to me. (If you happen to have Almanzar's Dec. 1965 pricelist take a look at the back cover to see what each of us looked like then!).

For the next fifty months I spend virtually every Saturday and most school vacation days working for Alcedo Almanzar. Starting in 1965 we together began learning about Latin American coinage as it became obvious that that field would be most suited to his unique personality and geographic location. During that period I had the experience of working alongside Carlos Elizondo Senior and Junior, Bill Rappanoti, Roy Villagran and later Dale Seppa.

I personally started collecting Costa Rican and Bolivian coins around 1964-65. By 1968 my interest covered all republican period minor coinage from all the Latin American nations. During the subsequent fourteen years my field of knowledge slowly expanded to include colonial pillar and portrait minors, cob coins, crown pieces from all eras, type gold, paper money, medals and even many tokens.

From October of 1968 through my graduation in June 1972, I spent my years at Princeton University pursuing academics, social life and numismatics in about equal proportion. I did utilize those four years to become familiar with the foreign coin dealers in the New York City and East Coast region. Much time was spent trading and visiting with the various collectors and dealers who regularly congregated at the numerous Hans Schulman auctions. Many of those alliances remain strong after I have been away from the area for ten years.

Upon graduation I had to decide whether to stay with coins as a vocation or an avocation since my formal education was oriented toward other fields. (The exposure to the lifestyle around New York City caused me to question whether I could comfortably settle back in Texas.) My decision was made easier by a fellow young numismatist who proposed we form a partnership. I admired his similar business views, serious work ethic, collector orientation and intelligence. We teamed up later that year as the equal partnership of "Cordy and Craig, International".

Scott Cordry and I spent our first eight months together in the Atlanta area since that afforded us the opportunity to work closely with "Worldwide Coin Investments" which happened to be the most dynamic coin company of that era. We dedicated 80 - 100 hours per week to our new enterprise; we produced five quality catalogs in our first seven months including a major research presentation of an outstanding Central American collection. By July of 1973 we were exhausted from the effort so we decided to move to California where we would operate under more normal conditions.

From its inception, Cordy and Craig, International became a noticable factor in the market for Latin American, Scandinavian and Islamic coins. In addition we did handle moderate amounts of European, Oriental and British Commonwealth material. We recognized that our "collector orientation" presented us with a unique opportunity to be significant factors in the development of the collecting fields of which we specialized. However, Scott and I both also recognized the extreme effort and concomitant responsibility that such an undertaking would encompass.

Beginning in December of 1973 and continuing for five years thereafter, I spend nearly half of my time traveling through Latin America. During approximately 50 trips which included more than 300 stops in the various cities of South and Central America, I met many of the local collectors and had the rare privilege of "sharing numismatics" with them. The knowledge of a specialized collector is often dozens of times greater than that of most dealers. My knowledge expanded exponentially!

Such would never have occurred if it had not been for the invaluable and substantial encouragement of my good friend and colleague Louis Hudson of North Carolina. Louis convinced me that such frequent travel and exposure would eventually attract us to the most important collectors, dealers and hoarders in each region. He personally arranged many of our trips and worked closely with me in making numerous substantial transactions. By combining our separate and considerable knowledge and contacts, the traveling duet of "Hudson and Craig" helped to internationalize coin collecting in Latin America.

During those years Scott and I decided that our partnership had achieved its goals and was no longer necessary. We amiably divided the company into two separate entities over a six month period. Today we remain close friends and confidants.

In 1977 I celebrated my 20th year in numismatics with a special 20% discount catalogue (#38).

By 1978 I had tired of the ceaseless travel and frequent second class hotels as well as the endless hassels with local border officials and their archaic laws. I felt that I had finally reached the point at which my reputation, international exposure, numerous contacts and level of knowledge were adequate to allow me to substitute the telephone for the worn airplane seat. Having the coins arrive by mail or courier is certainly much easier than traveling to obtain them in person. Since then my life has been less hectic and far more pleasurable.

In early 1979 I prepared my first auction catalogue. With its advent, I began the slow evolution from the "fixed pricelist" mentality and operating mode toward the more flexible auction mechanism.

In early 1980 my secretary and "best friend" of seven years accepted my marriage proposal. In July Marney Albert and I were married and in May 1981 our beloved son Jason was born. During these two years our family business has slowly been reoriented toward only the more exceptional and truly scarce coins of Latin America. Since the requirements of remaining proficient in my chosen field are so exacting and time consuming, I have essentially stopped trading in non-Latin American coins. Many people would be astonished by the number of hours required each week just for study, reading, record keeping and organization. It is not as surprising when you realize that as many as 20,000 coins fall into this specialized area!

The next five years of my life will hopefully be a continuation of this pattern and evolution. Each year I expect to hold 2 auctions, produce one or two fixed pricelists, have bourse tables at the foremost international coin conventions, travel once or twice to Latin America and Europe and remain a good husband and father. I have considered expansion into the field of classic worldwide silver crowns but I am not convinced that I have enough time to pursue so difficult a task. My primary goal is to maintain my high level of interest in and knowledge of Latin American coins. If so, Freeman Craig and Company should remain the best place to locate truly rare and exceptional coins from South and Central America.

We are celebrating our 25th anniversary by conducting a bona fide 25% discount sale for the benefit of all of our loyal clients. As you peruse this outstanding presentation of 920 coins, you will immediately realize that this is neither a clearance nor a "junk" sale! Over half of these pieces have not previously been offered by us and virtually all have individual merit either due to above-average condition or rarity. We are proud of these pieces and genuinely pleased to be able to offer them at prices that average only "wholesale". It is not an exaggeration to state that we will lose money on a number of these at the fully discounted sale price (in fact, we would be willing to repurchase some of them at 5% to 10% over that level!).

Consequently we have established special rules to determine the extent of each purchaser's discount. As our anniversary present to each of you, you will receive a full 25% discount on the most expensive coin that is invoiced to your order. You can quality for a full 25% discount on all coins purchased by by you if you fulfill any of three requirements: 1) you order a minimum of 25 coins, or 2) your total order is for at least $625 (=25 squared) based on the regular (non-sale) price, or 3) you order at least 15 coins and supply 10 more "alternate" choices to be used only in case some of your first priority selections were previously sold. The quantity or amount of coins you order, not the number we can supply, will be used to determine whether you qualify for the full discount on your entire order.

For clarification, I present a few possible case examples: I) if you order one $200 coin and three others at $20 each, your total cost would be $150 + 20 + 20 + 20 = $210. II) if you order one $625 coin, it will cost you $469. All other coins ordered by you will receive a full 25% discount. III) if you order one coin at $400 and 10 coins averaging $25 each, your total $625 order will be fully discounted to $469. IIII) if you order five coins for $125 each, your $625 order will be discounted to $469.. and V) if you order 25 coins averaging $15 each, your $375 order will be discounted to $281.25. Essentially these are simple rules which allow every collector to qualify for a full 25% discount if they wish to participate.

Do note that all coin listings are followed by two prices. The first represents our normal retail price. The second price, printed in red ink, represents the actual price you will pay if you qualify for the full 25% discount. The discounted price is shown at the next dollar or 25¢ level in order to eliminate fractions. Be aware that most items are one-of-a-kind and that alternate choices will be beneficial.

As this is probably our only fixed pricelist of 1982, we will honor the discount policy for all orders received through September 7, 1982. Thereafter, all prices will be as listed in the first column (regular price). CREDIT is available to clients ordering over $500 net; up to six months at bank interest rates.

TERMS OF SALE: Coins are available on approval to established clients with a good payment record. New customers are asked to pay on invoice or to supply adequate financial references with their order. All coins are guaranteed genuine and as described. We offer a two-week unconditional return period. All payments are due within ten (10) days unless other arrangements have previously been made.

POSTAGE AND INSURANCE: We will pay postage and insurance on all domestic U.S. orders received with payment or by telephone. Others will be billed for postage and insurance. Overseas buyers will be billed for postage and a $3.30 registration fee, plus 2% for insurance except: 1) On telephone or telegraph orders we will pay the postage and registration but not the 2% insurance, and 2) Overseas buyers are welcome to save the 2% insurance fee by insuring the parcel themselves and notifying us in advance.

BOOKS AND NUMISMATIC LITERATURE

B1 ULEX COLLECTION 1908 Adolph Hess of Hamburg auction. One of the earliest of the classic Latin American collection sales (between Fonrobert and Guttag). 4176 lots of which 2750 are Latin American. Includes gold, silver and even rare medals. Some plates. Important for pedigree work and confirmation of the existence of some obscure pieces. Hardbound reprint. Usually retails for $30-$35; our price is $22.50 NET.

B2 HERRERA on Proclamation Medals of mainland and colonial Spain. This 288-page reprint lists, describes, pictures and gives a history of virtually all Spanish colonial pieces. Also includes a 1980 price guide. Classic reference. NET $22.50.

B3 COINAGE OF PERU by Grunthal and Sellschopp. This 300-page hardbound reference book covers all Lima and Potosi colonial coinage together with republican Peru. Following a 15-page historical introduction, every coin issued (in all metals) by these mints is listed with one or more pedigrees. It is the best effort yet in identifying which coins and major varieties exist. Five hundred copies of this book were printed at a cost of $20 each. We bought 10% of the "mintage" and offer them at our cost of $25.00 (NET) plus postage.

B4 HEISS Monedas Hispano-Christianas. Large 3-volume compendium of Spanish coinage through the ages. History, descriptions and illustrations. Reprint of a classic. NET $60.00.

B5 VIDAL QUADRAS Reprinted four-volume catalog of their classic collection featuring Spain and Spanish colonial coinage. 1502 pages; illustrated; descriptions. NET $110.00.

B6 SKILTON Collection of Latin American coins and medals sold by Thomas Elder in June 1925. Features a superb group of proclamation pieces - possibly the finest ever assembled. Cover photo is a 1724 4 Reales proclamation of Luis I from Mexico! 1600 lots, in English, but no photos. Reprint. NET $10.00.

Three excellent new references relating to Latin American coinage have become available in the past few months. Jorge Restrepo's Two Reales and Twenty Centavos of Colombia, Palmer and Almanzar's Pillar and Portrait Four Reales of the New World and James Sweeny's Numismatic History of the Birmingham Mint will doubtlessly all become standard references. Each exhibits scholarship, much previously unpublished data and apparent completeness in the area covered. We highly recommend all three volumes and congratulate the authors for their contribution of knowledge in our field.
